5G POLICY

SUMMARY

Together, the number 'five' and letter 'g' have generated widely circulated conspiracy theories, creating significant concern if not fear in the minds of some and motivating numerous protests. However, the reality of 5G is that it offers exciting new opportunities and drives forward the technological revolution which could supercharge innovation in the UK.

This thought-piece provides a brief overview of policy options through which the UK government might support 5G technology as it emerges from the second economic power-shock in a generation.'
